FIRST WHITE HOUSE BATH.

Van Buren Was Criticized For Introducing the Tub Into the Mansion.

In an article on "The Domestic Side of the White House," in The Ladies' Home Journal, ex-President Harrison gives this interesting view of the home portion of the executive mansion: "Properly speaking," he says, "there are five bedrooms in the executive mansion, though by the use of two dressing rooms and of the end of a short hall that formerly opened to a large north window, but has now been closed up to make a small bedroom, the number may be increased to eight. There are no suitable servants' quarters. Those provided are in the basement, and only those opening to the south are habitable. The north rooms open upon a damp brick arena and are unhealthy. One of the basement rooms, having a southern exposure, is fitted up as a billiard room, but very plainly.

"It is said that provision for a library for the White House was first made during Mr. Fillmore's term. Neat cases are arranged about the room, and most of them are filled with books—old editions of historical and classical works. There is no catalogue, and the library has not been kept up.

"President Adams introduced billiards into the White House, purchasing the first table, balls and cues at a cost of $61, paying for them out of his own pocket. President Van Buren was charged by a political adversary and scathing critic as being the first of our presidents to discover that the pleasures of the warm or tepid bath are the proper accompaniments of a palace life. For it appears that our former presidents were content with the application, when necessary, of the simple shower bath. Mr. Van Buren's critic then refers with high approval to the salutary side of Mr. Adams' heroic habit of bathing in the Potomac 'between daybreak and sunrise.'"

Color Run Mad.

Are we not losing any innate perception of grace of line and harmony of coloring that we may once have possessed through our weak minded submission to chameleon coated Dame Fashion, who plays pranks that at times are positively sardonic? I saw a woman the other day in a bonnet that boasted three shades of pink, two of magenta, four of green, three of yellow and a fine blob of scarlet like a "little round button at top." And at first I thought she looked nice! It took time to realize that each tint clashed with the other tint, so decadent had become my taste in millinery.—Woman.

Necessarily So.

Maud—Is life worth the living? Ah, that is a great conundrum! Cynicus—Yes. We all have to give it up.—Brooklyn Life.

True Philosophy.

Smith—I tell you the man who is always ready to seize an opportunity is great. Brown—Yes, but he is a greater man who can distinguish an opportunity from a live wire.—Cleveland Leader.

Stationary Capacity.

The Tragedian—How was the house last night? The Comedian—Half full. "You don't say?" "Yes; he was that way when he came in."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Suggestion.

Lea (sadly)—I don't know what to do with that boy of mine. He's been two years at the medical college, and still keeps at the foot of his class. Ferrins (promptly)—Make a chiropodist of him.—Tit-Bits.

More Reasons.

Why people come long distances to buy at the Palama Grocery. Reason No. 1—Because one customer tells another how much they saved by dealing at this live and let live establishment. Reason No. 2—Because the saving from their grocery bill helps them to pay their house rent. If you don't believe what our customers say, just give us a call and be convinced. HARRY CANNON, Palama Grocery, Opposite Railway Depot. Tel. 755, every time. Goods delivered.

The Same Old Sarsaparilla.

That's Ayer's. The same old sarsaparilla as it was made and sold 50 years ago. In the laboratory it is different. There modern appliances lend speed to skill and experience. But the sarsaparilla is the same old sarsaparilla that made the record—50 years of cures. Why don't we better it? Well, we're much in the condition of the Bishop and the raspberry: "Doubtless," he said, "God might have made a better berry. But doubtless, also, He never did." Why don't we better the sarsaparilla? We can't. We are using the same old plant that cured the Indians and the Spaniards. It has not been bettered. And since we make sarsaparilla compound out of sarsaparilla plant, we see no way of improvement. Of course, if we were making some secret chemical compound, we might.... But we're not. We're making the same old sarsaparilla to cure the same old diseases. You can tell it's the same old sarsaparilla because it works the same old cures. It's the sovereign blood purifier, and —it's Ayer's.
